

Docket Number 01-184

Cell phone users should be allowed to keep their cell phone number even if they change service providers. This allows free market competition.